Home Observation:

The family resides in a small private home in the South Jamaica area of Queens. As you enter the home you walk into the living room area. FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] reported that her daughter's bedroom is in the basement. As you pass through the living room toward the rear of the house is the kitchen. CW Edwards noticed that the kitchen appeared a bit cluttered. FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] reported that she had just been cleaning up the home prior to CW Edwards arriving so some things were out of sorts. BP Ms. M [REDACTED] reported that there were 3 bedrooms upstairs, however it was very messy as she was in the process of cleaning and having the children clean their rooms. FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] reported that the family is also still in the process of moving their things back from Pa. CW Edwards observed and adequate supply of food in the kitchen cabinets and refrigerator.

FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] was able to reflect and accept some responsibility stating that she knew that she was partially to blame for the delay in the adoption. CW Edwards Attempted to assist FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] with her other issues. CW Edwards provided her with the childcare paperwork that she and her employer need to fill out for her to receive childcare assistance for FC Z [REDACTED] and FC D [REDACTED]. CW Edwards also presented FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] with the gift cards for all of the children. FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] reported that FC D [REDACTED] is having significant troubles in school. She stated that the school has completed testing on him, however since she has not been assigned as the surrogate parent, the school will not convene and IEP meeting with her, nor will they classify him or place him a special education setting.. CW Edwards agreed to contact the school once the break is over and obtain information on what needs to be done for FC D [REDACTED] to receive the services in school that he needs. FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] reports that she continues to receive board rate for FC D [REDACTED] even though he should be getting special rate. She stated that she had a fair hearing about the matter in June and was informed that he needed to have a new evaluation. She stated that he was re-evaluated in September, yet the rate has not been adjusted. CW Edwards agreed to follow up on this as well. FP Mrs. M [REDACTED] confirmed that the boys have other siblings in the system, however she is not willing to comply with sibling visits between the siblings in her home and the
